

BIBLIOGRAPHY
COPYRIGHT, TERMS AND CONDITIONS, CITING SOURCES

“Cite Your Sources (Source Footnotes)”

https://familysearch.org/learn/wiki/en/Cite_Your_Sources_\(Source_Footnotes\))

“Copyright and the Website” 14 November 2012, Judy G Russell

(<http://www.legalgenealogist.com>)

“Copyright Term and the Public Domain in the United States 1 January 2014”

<http://copyright.cornell.edu/resources/publicdomain.cfm>

Cyndi’s List <http://www.cyndislist.com/>

Digital Slider (Determining Copyright Status),

<http://librarycopyright.net/resources/digitalslider/>

Mills, Elizabeth Shown, Evidence! Citation & Analysis for the Family Historian, Baltimore, Maryland, Genealogical Publishing Company, 1997

Mills, Elizabeth Shown, Evidence Explained: Citing History Sources from Artifacts to Cyberspace, Baltimore, Maryland, Genealogical Publishing Company, 2007

Mills, Elizabeth Shown, editor. Professional Genealogy: A Manual for Researchers, Writers, Editors, Lecturers and Librarians. Baltimore, Maryland, Genealogical Publishing Company, 2001

United States Copyright Office “Copyright Basics”;

<http://copyright.gov/circs/circ01.pdf>

United States Copyright Office, Circular 1a, “A Brief History and

Introduction”(<http://www.copyright.gov/circs/circ1a.html>; accessed 11 November 2014)

Compiled by Ann L. Wells for presentation to BIGWILL on 15 November 2014; do not reproduce without written permission,